Andes Italic from Latinotype

Andes is a display typeface that has neo-humanist characteristics. Its different terminals, among other elements, give it a look of mixed typography.

Andes is a typeface with 10 Upright weights & 10 italics, ranging from Ultra Light to Black, each with the same x-height. This typeface contains additional italic glyphs (for a, y, z, g) that help to emphasise text or words. Andes is based on the design of Merced and both of them share several features.

This type is well-suited for use in retail, magazines, logotypes, books, etc.
